

Model 980A System Module / 2 Channel Hookup for Home Audio:

The System Module is essential for every Access™ system. It makes no difference if selection of product is by control panel (902 or 903) or by product select buttons (994 or 995) or both, therefore, always follow this diagram for proper setup. Concerning signal path, the Model 980A will be located after the source group and, if applicable, the signal processor groups also. In this configuration, the Front Inputs and Front Outputs are the only connections that are used.
